

Agreement Overview

Vaultline Trading Systems

A summary of your software access, payment obligations, account control, and ongoing service terms.

Software Licensing

Your purchase provides access to Vaultline's automated trading software, onboarding, and applicable support services. Vaultline provides technology—not brokerage, investment management, or financial advisory services.

Payment Structure

One-Time Software Fee	Monthly Service Fee	Capital Requirement
Covers access to Vaultline's software, onboarding, and initial setup.	Covers continued software access, infrastructure, updates, monitoring, and support.	The amount funded into your own brokerage account to operate the software.

Fees and Account Control

Vaultline does not charge performance fees, trading commissions, or profit splits. Your capital remains in your own brokerage account and is never received, held, or withdrawn by Vaultline.

Cancellation

Your monthly service can be cancelled according to the terms of your agreement. Once service access ends, the software will no longer remain active. You may resume anytime.
